SCHOOL REPORT.

There have been twenty-six terms of school taught in different localities in the school district the past year. Seventeen different teachers have been employed, all females.

LOCKE'S CORNER.

Both summer and winter terms of this school were taught by Mrs. Emma R. Locke. Mrs. Locke appears very much at home in the schoolroom having a large experience in teaching. She fully sustained her former reputation as a first class teacher. There was a very commendable improvement made.

Length of summer term, 8 weeks; number of scholars, 5. Length of winter term, 9 weeks; number of scholars, 9. Wages of teacher per month, $22.00.

NORTH SCHOOL.

This school was taught by Miss Luanna M. Hurd both summer and winter terms. Miss Hurd is a very fine scholar and has a pleasant way of imparting instruction. There are some excellent scholars in this school, and we are pleased to report the terms here a success.

Length of summer term, 8 weeks; number of scholars, 6. Length of winter term, 9 weeks; number of scholars, 5. Wages of teacher per month, $22.00.

PEACHAM.

The summer term of this school was under the instruction of Miss Nellie F. Clough. This was Miss Clough's first attempt at teaching but she entered into the spirit of her work and the result was a very marked advancement in the school.

Length of school, 8 weeks; number of scholars, 10. Wages per month, $22.00.

The second term of this school was commenced by Miss Laura A. Straw. Owing to some prejudice on the part of some of the parents in this locality, unknown to the school board at the time Miss Straw was engaged to take charge of this school, it did not prove to be a success, and although qualified for the position she thought it best to resign.

Length of school, 3 3-5 weeks; number of scholars 8. Wages of teacher per month, $20.00.

WHITE OAKS.

The first term of this school was taught by Miss Grace A. Willey. Although this was Miss Willey's first attempt at teaching she seemed at once to enter into the work as naturally as many with several terms experience. The school made very good improvement. No school in town can show better readers than are found here.

Length of school, 8 weeks; number of scholars, 10. Wages per month, $22.00.

The second term of 11 weeks was under the instruction of Miss Nettie F. Foss of Strafford who ranks second to none as a teacher in public schools. Cheerful, thorough, and just adapted to her work.

Wages per month, $24.00; number of scholars, 18.

PITMAN.

There were two terms, both taught by Miss Nettie F. Foss of Strafford.

Length of first term, 9 weeks; wages per month, $22.00; whole number of scholars, 7. Length of second term, 7 weeks; whole number of scholars, 7; wages per month, $23.00.

A failure could not be expected as Miss Foss is one of our best teachers and has taught this school with success before. Prompt and accurate recitations were particularly noticeable.

SHACKFORD CORNER.

Both terms of this school were under the supervision of Mrs. Myra A. George, an experienced and successful teacher.

Length of first term, 8 weeks; wages per month, $24.00; whole number of scholars, 9. Length of second term, 10 weeks; wages per month, $24.00; whole number of scholars, 15.

We found some fine scholars in this school.

CENTER SCHOOL.

Both summer and winter terms of this school were under the charge of Miss Mary A. Jenkins, an efficient and valuable teacher.

This is one of the largest schools in the district, yet under her management all went like clock work. The scholars in this school seem to take pride in being prompt in their recitations, and in their deportment always gentlemanly and ladylike whenever we meet them.

Length of summer term, 8 weeks; number of scholars, 41; wages per month, $28.00. Length of winter term, 12 weeks; number of scholars, 42; wages of teacher per month, $32.00; number of scholars not absent, 11.

BEAUTY HILL.

The first term of this school was taught by Miss May C. Osborn, who has an aptness for teaching and winning the respect of her pupils. There was a very commendable improvement in the branches taught.

Order, excellent; length of school, 8 weeks; number of scholars, 12; wages of teacher per month, $23.00; number of scholars not absent, 2.

The second term of this school was commenced by Miss Osborn, but at the end of two weeks she was taken sick and it was thought advisable to get another teacher and we were fortunate to secure the services of Miss Laura A. Ayers, a teacher of large experience, and she fully sustained her former reputation. She had the happy faculty of gaining the confidence of both pupils and parents.

Length of school, 11 weeks; number of scholars, 20; wages of teachers per month, $24; number of scholars not absent or tardy, 6.

CLARKTOWN.

Miss Sophie George had charge of both terms. Length of first term 8 weeks; wages per month, $28; whole number of scholars, 24. Length of second term, 11 weeks; wages per month, $22; whole number of scholars, 25.

Miss George is one of our best teachers. By her gentle yet firm manner she soon gained the good will of her pupils, and easily aroused the enthusiasm of the school for study. Examinations were creditable. Order good.

TASKER.

First term was taught by Miss Eunice S. Grace. Length of term, 6 weeks; wages per month, $20; whole number of scholars, 5. Miss Grace was not a stranger in this school having taught in this place several terms. She is a thorough teacher.

Second term was taught by Miss Rosa I. Eaton of Pittsfield. Length of term, 11 weeks; wages $22 per month. Whole number of scholars, 5. Miss Eaton is a very efficient teacher. This is a remarkably quiet school. As good recitations in Physiology if not the best in town.

BICKFORD.

There were two terms of 8 weeks each. Wages per month for both terms $20; whole number of scholars for first term, 8; second term 10. Both terms were under the charge of Miss Alice M. Haskell who labored hard for the advancement of her scholars. At the close of both terms the school gave evidence of marked improvement and good order.

DENNETT.

Both terms of this school were under the instruction of Miss Addie A. Dow. On visiting the school at the commencement of the first term it seemed prosperous. As it closed prematurely we are unable to report as to progress. At the close of the second term we found that the text books had been very well learned. A little more energy and earnestness manifested in school exercises would have been an improvement. Length of first term, 7 weeks; second term, 10 weeks; wages per month, $22; whole number of scholars first term, 10; second term, 8.

PARADE.

The first term was under the instruction of Miss Fannie Ham of Gilmanton. Miss Ham is a thorough scholar. This is one of our largest schools in town. There seemed to be a restlessness in this school that retarded its progress. The teacher labored hard for the benefit of her scholars, and we consider the school made fair progress. Length of term, 8 weeks; wages per month, $28; whole number of scholars, 36.

The second term was taught by Mrs. Sarah C. Caswell, an experienced teacher. At our first visit of this term the same restlessness prevailed, but as order (which is Heaven's first law) began to be restored, some of the larger scholars left. Those that remained made good advancement. At the close there was marked improvement in both order and recitations. Length of term, 12 weeks; wages per month, $32; whole number of scholars, 41.

REMARKS.

The schools in Barnstead have in general been prosperous the past year. The teachers have been competent and on an average very successful. Teachers are not perfect, neither are scholars; therefore perfect work cannot be reasonably expected. The highest point in any human undertaking cannot be reached; but all should strive to have their work as near perfection as possible.

Education is not the only requisite in teaching. It is quite as essential to be able to govern a school properly, to gain the good will of the scholars, to encourage all efforts to do right, and to aid as far as possible in laying a foundation for a noble character. The scholar is likely to imitate the teacher in manner of walking, speaking and writing; even habits of thought which are sure to manifest themselves almost constantly, are likely to place their impress on the susceptible mind of childhood, and should be such as to foster an admiration for goodness, purity and truth.

We should be glad to see impressed on the minds of parents the importance of children being in their places every day of the school term. The loss of a day or even half a day means the loss of a link in the chain that is hard to replace afterward, and manifests a lack of appreciation of the advantages afforded by our system of free schools, through which by a proper improvement every child in town may obtain an education that will not only be creditable to himself, but an essential aid in the business of life.

Notwithstanding the vote taken at our last school meeting, to have schools taught in the several schoolhouses in town, we are of the opinion that there are a few that might be consolidated, to the benefit of all, without being detrimental to the interests of any. This however we must leave to the good judgment of our successors.

Respectfully submitted,
